

The EdOdyssey Program Advantage

We create authentic educational programs, not bus tours
We are educators and travel experts, not a tour agency

When you work with EdOdyssey, you have a team of international educators and expert travelers managing the details and supporting your program. Months of planning and preparing are invested into every experience abroad so that from the moment you land in-country your group is prepared for an incredible odyssey. Here are a few ways that our team supports your program and makes incredible travel experiences both accessible and easy:

- Registration Portal Management: We collect and manage all traveler details on our secure portal so you don't have to. This includes registration, passport and document upload, important allergy and health details, and payment processing.
- Dedicated Program Page: In addition to the secure registration portal, EdOdyssey also creates a dedicated program page for each faculty-led trip. This page is an easy reference for travelers about upcoming dates and deadlines and is home to all important program related updates, flyers, insurance information, and more.
- Comprehensive Pre-Departure Process & Support: A major reason our programs are better is because we start early with an intentional process. Before travel we regularly communicate with travelers and share updates, provide a detailed itinerary with note, share travel resources, and suggest fun educational materials with country- and culture-specific resources.
- Communication Administration: Cross-cultural and international communication isn't always easy so we handle all this for the group. Reservations, communication with academic and community partners, and planning for site visits and activities is all taken care of. We know how to coordinate even the most complicated short-term program logistics.
- Information & Pre-Departure Sessions: For every program we strongly suggest hosting an information session for prospective students to learn about the experience and ask questions. Several weeks before departure, we also host a pre-departure meeting to review all the final details. We create the presentation and supply all the materials for these sessions. Often, someone from the EdOdyssey team will even be present to lead these sessions.
- Marketing Material: Too many international programs don't run and we work hard to eliminate barriers to travel. We create flyers to promote the trip and informational and pre-departure presentations to help share this experience with as many students as possible. EdOdyssey can even help with social media posts, press releases, and newsletter articles for your institution!
